

BACK TO SCHOOL

In Gikonko, Rwanda, the senior school is back to work. But this week they are doing some community service! Arivera Nyirabavugirije, a widow and genocide survivor, lives nearby in very poor conditions. The staff and students have raised some funds and the students are gathering the materials to build the lady a house which will withstand the rain and winds. They are £200 short of their target. Can anyone help out with a donation or a prayer that the target will be met?

WOODEN IT BE GOOD?

10,000 Eucalyptus trees were planted in Rakai, Uganda as part of a project to support the elderly. As a fast growing tree, well acclimatised to Africa, it is considered a very worthwhile crop. The wooden poles are ready within three years and sell well for building projects. Once cut, the stumps then produce at least two new stems, and so the harvesting continues. Initially they will harvest 80% of the crop and thereafter will harvest every two years. Problems to worry about are pests and bush fires. The crops are sprayed regularly and the land is kept clear of weeds to minimise any problems. Sadly some seedlings succumbed to the drought but have been replaced, and late rains have been welcomed. Our prayers are with these tenacious farmers.
